

Adapted for Success

As the environment changes organisms have to adapt or change to suit their surroundings in order to survive.

ACTIVITY: On the left are pictures of adaptations that nature can have. Match the adaptation by drawing a line to the animal that has it on the right.

Think about some of the ways that you are well adapted to the environment you live in. How do those adaptations help you to survive?